The Conflict Resolution Education Connection

People around the globe have started embracing conflict resolution as a key component of a quality education. We invite you to use this site to explore some of the wide array of available materials that support conflict resolution education (CRE as we like to call it). Perhaps you might even contribute some of your own content after you get to know us and see areas of need that you can help fill.

Finding Your Way Around

Our site is organized into a few broad content areas based on the primary users of that material. The basic structure provides for five user groups as noted below. Note that conflict resolution service providers will likely find content of interest in all areas, so please do have a look around.

Featured Project
Sustaining Conflict Resolution Education Conference

Teachable Moment
Morningside Center for Teaching Social Responsibility

About Us Elementary Middle School High School Ideas & Essays

TeachableMoment.Org is a project of Morningside Center for Teaching Social Responsibility (formerly Educators for Social Responsibility Metropolitan Area). TeachableMoment aims to encourage critical thinking on issues of the day and foster a positive learning environment.

Student readings and classroom activities are available for elementary school, middle school, and high school levels. Topics include current domestic & international events, conflict resolution, and intercultural understanding.

Latest Activities

PAKISTAN: Unstable U.S. Ally (3/5/08) Pakistan, a nuclear power that has been a haven for al Qaeda, is now in flux. Three student readings offer a brief primer on Pakistan's often violent history and its relationship with the U.S. Discussion questions and subjects for further inquiry follow.

Presidential Election 2008 ROLEPLAY: THE CAMPAIGN TRAIL (2/27/08) A lively game demonstrates how disparate interest groups, with their money and clout, can influence a candidate's platform and viability.

Presidential Election 2008: THINKING CRITICALLY ABOUT A CHOICE FOR PRESIDENT (2/27/08) The believing game and the doubting game can help students go beyond debate to dialogue and analysis when considering the 2008 presidential candidates.

CONFLICT AND WIN-WIN SOLUTIONS: Two Lessons for Grades 3-6 (2/27/08) The first lesson introduces students to the concept of conflict; the second has students practice coming up with "win-win solutions."

Presidential Election 2008: HILLRAISERS, McCain 100s & PUBLIC CAMPAIGN FUNDING (2/20/08) This election has raised many questions about the role of money in our political system. One student reading focuses on "bundling" and how it encourages corruption. Another considers the need for reform, detailing one proposal now before Congress. Discussion questions, subjects for inquiry, and suggested citizenship activities follow.

RESPECTING DIFFERENCES FOR K-2 (2/20/08) Students observe that even friends may disagree in their opinions. The lesson includes an "opinion continuum" exercise that encourages students to respectfully express and listen to different opinions.
